Please remember that doing assigned homework does not count towards your practice log. Rather, the practice log includes everything else that goes into improving your Spanish and preparing for the test. The following activities all count towards the practice log:

1. Reading anything in Spanish that is not assigned for class (books, short stories, newspapers, magazines, Internet, blogs, instruction booklets, etc.)
2. Listening to anything in Spanish (songs, podcasts, TV, radio, DVDs, people in the supermarket, etc.)
3. Speaking or writing in Spanish when not assigned (should be "true speech" where you are actually discussing something rather than repeating rote phrases.
4. Vocabulary & Grammar improvement (flashcards, online exercises, labeling, quizzing each other, speaking, tutoring someone, unassigned workbook pages, etc.) These must be additional activities, not assigned homework.

There are several sites available at http://www.tatespanish.com/hawken/list_read_sources.html that will help you practice. Please note that cultural studies in English do not count towards the practice log, so you should research in Spanish. If you have any questions or suggestions, please don't hesitate to ask me.
